Can you imagine sitting at the feast of the Apostles? St. Irenaeus was born in Asia Minor -- now Turkey -- and was tutored in Christianity by St. Polycarp, himself a disciple of St. John the Evangelist. Irenaeus caught the missionary zeal and became a priest sent to Gaul (modern day France). Following a persecution by the pagan Roman emperor Marcus Aurelius, Irenaeus replaced the martyred bishop in the region. His trials were not over, however. The heretical sect of Gnosticism spread to Gaul. Gnostics proclaimed a secret, spiritual knowledge available only to a few. Irenaeus researched the Gnostic texts and exposed the falsehoods they taught, such as denying the divinity of Christ. His book Against Heresies is still being published today, over 1800 years after his death. May St. Irenaeus intercede for our own quests for greater understanding!

From The Deacon's Desk:

My brothers and sisters in Christ,

This weekend's readings can kind of come across as God being kind of a bully.

In God's conversation with Job, it seems like the Father takes Job behind the woodshed for an attitude adjustment. He is essentially reminding Job who controls the sea, the clouds, and the world. It seems as if God is saying "Do you? Nope, that would be Me!" He is trying to help Job to understand that it is probably not a great idea to question God.

And while that is a completely legitimate point, if the conversation had stopped there, it certainly could have come across as if God is saying "Because I said so that's why." God is not saying this to Job, and us as well, just to flex his muscles, or just to demonstrate His authority, but He is saying it out of love. He is saying it in order to give us comfort.

He is saying to Job then and to us now that "He's Got This!" He has control over everything, and we can take comfort in knowing that nothing happens to us that isn't first filtered through our loving Father's hands.

This should give us tremendous peace and reassurance knowing that even though we live in these chaotic and tumultuous times that God, our loving Father, is still in control.

God is in Control!!!!!!!

May God bless you all over the coming week.

The Twelfth Sunday of Ordinary Time

Year of Mother of Sorrows

The feast of Our Lady of Sorrows on September 15 marks a special day for us. Our Lady has interceded for us and walked with us through our journey to get where we are today, and we intend to thank and honor her by dedicating the entire year to our Mother of Sorrows! We will do this by remembering and celebrating in special ways her feast day, as well as each of her seven sorrows. In order to do this, we need several volunteers to help plan a year dedicated to our Mother of Sorrows. If you are interested in joining the planning committee, please contact Carol Kamphuis at carolk4mos@gmail.com.
